Dear Parents,

Children's Week in Australia is a national celebration to promote awareness of children's rights, talents and citizenship.

It typically involves themed events, activities, performances or special days in schools, community organisations, and care settings.

It's a great opportunity to engage children in fun, meaningful, and rights-based activities.

Throughout the week, the children will take part in a range of fun and meaningful activities, including:

- ✦ Arts and crafts that celebrate their individuality
- 🎮 Team games that encourage cooperation and friendship
- 🗣️ "Kids Lead the Way" sessions where children make choices and share their voices
- 🌐 Cultural and community activities to highlight inclusion
